'Twas in the year and, dear tourists, you are ready to begin your trip through the P. H. S. Film Colony. You will see all the glamorous beauties, the handsome heroes, the clever comedians, the serious tragedians, the extras, the directors, the managers, the make-up experts, the costumers, the script-writers, and the cameramen. Everyone who had any part in making the super-productions undertaken on the P. H. S. Lot will meet you personally.

Bon voyage! May your trip be joyful and your memories of it always pleasant!

of the "big apple"

that the performers in the P. H. S. Film Corporation were kept in fit physical condition by a capable staff of trainers with Coach Salen Herke as chief director. Proper exercise and diet for healthful and happy living were faithfully prescribed by this group. Though its greatest responsibility was training the stars who represented Peoria High School in competition, it also willingly gave help to the most obscure extra on the Lot.

As a small way of showing their appreciation, the scenarists dedicate the 1938 CREST to the efficient staff of their athletic department.

Producers

The stars of the movie cast have taken their parts in a very professional manner. The actors have been well selected for the parts they play and the members of the cast are enthusiastic in their efforts to make the Crest movie well balanced and well developed in every particular. Their efforts will be received enthusiastically by the student-body. Through such efforts and genuine team work, the cast is developing traits that will function in life's movie. Poise and ready adjustment will characterize the players before the microphone of life in the real drama of living. Through such participation in the emotional portrayal of fellow-students and incidents in school life, the actors move to an ever higher level of thinking and acting. It is through such efforts that an actor realizes his ambition in reaching his higher self.

A studio without directors would be as useful as a kitchen without a chef. We are proud of our efficient directors. They have always proved willing and helpful. Each year the productions at the P. H. S. Studio are becoming bigger and better. We wish to thank these directors and may the years bring them many more fine actors and actresses.

The various stunt crews on the P. H. S. Lot kept things humming all year. This year heights of achievement were attained which have never been reached before.

Due to the untiring efforts of the chief field director, Doc Herke, and his able staff, the crews exceeded expectations in a thrilling manner.

We salute these coaches and the players!

COACH HERKE

The '37 football team experienced one of the most successful seasons ever had by the Hilltoppers. Beginning the year's "productions" by a decisive victory over Woodruff, they continued their onslaught winning the next six consecutive games. It wasn't until the Herke coached boys visited Pekin that they tasted their only defeat. Determined to win the two remaining games, the Hunters annexed Lincoln with a 21-0 count. Playing the final game of the year at the dedication of the new Central Athletic Stadium, they turned in a brilliant performance by beating Manual in the Turkey day game—the final score being 19-0.

3rd Row: Washington, Pugh, Patee, Ruhaak, Carver, Decker, Swords, Fruehauf, King, Gillette, Lyman, Coach Herke

Much credit must be given to the line, which so sturdily stood up under the opposition's bombardment; and, on offensive gave the necessary interference for many a long gain. The spectacular plays of the back field will also be remembered with thrilling gains, daring passes, line-plunges, and fied generalship.

At the end of the season, Walt Spaninger and Earl Younglove were elected co-captains, the latter being selected on the All-State Football Team.

Concluding a successful year, the squad put on the "Football Follies," which was an immense hit with the student body. From part of the proceeds they gave gifts of appreciation to Coach Herke, Coach Noppenberger, and Trainer Conway for their sincere and untiring efforts.

COACH NOPPENBERGER

Winning the first five games, the '38 basketball team looked as if it was going to continue the success that the Bluffmen enjoyed all fall. The next game they visited Pekin's Hardwoods and lost a hard fought game by a 2-point margin. The hot and cold team of the Hilltoppers again hit its stride by winning three more games and then lost another to the Streator quintet. They won the next four which included Manual, East Peoria, Springfield, and Spalding. Canton their next foe, finally nosed them out 28-29 in an overtime. Woodruff was the Hunters' next victim, but, the next inter-city game with Manual ended in Central's defeat.

COACH HERKE

Then came the chance for the Central quintet to even things up with Pekin, but it seemed that fate was against Peoria, for Pekin came from way behind to win a field goal. They ended their regular season in grand style by beating Springfield 46-39. They opened the Regional tournament by taking an easy win over Princeville and then annexed their second game with Woodruff. Coach Herke changed the line-up, putting Cox at Center and Williams at forward. This change proved very effective as they whipped Manual 36-28; thus earning a right to go to the District tournament at Pekin. This outstanding combination won their first two games; but in the finals, even though they played the best game of the season, the hard fighting Hunters lost to Pekin.

During the season they won 19 out of 26 games, against some of the stiffest competition in the state, showing a successful season.

Social Season Hits Top With Prom Tonight

P. Jordan, Harriet Vance To Lead Grand March At Inglaterra Dance

BULLETIN

Tickets will be on sale tonight at the door at the same price of $1.75 a couple and $1 stag, according to Joseph Myers, junior class sponsor.

Tonight will mark the annual resurrection of Peoria high school's most gala social event, the junior prom, at the Inglaterra ballroom with dancing to the music of Charlie Cartwright and his band from 9 to 2 o'clock.

The grand march, led by Paul Jordan, junior class president, and Harriet Vance, queen of the prom, will be the highlight of the evening. Following the leading couple will be Bob Vance, senior class president and Anne Birchlow; Dick Richards, president of the school, and his date; Bob Keller, vice-president of the school, with Harriett Schroer, John Whisenand, vice-president of the junior class, and Charlie Lidle; Stan Schwartz, vice-president of the senior class, with his date; and other officers of the junior and senior classes in order.

Dancing will be interrupted at 11:30 by a floor show for which Milton Budd, of the staff of WMBD, will be master of ceremonies. The program will include four youthful performers, also from WMBD: Dorothy June Blake, who appeared before Peoria high school students last year, will dance and sing; Doris and Margaret Kirhart, who entertained with Jan Garber when he was here, will play the accordion and sing; and Jimmy Bright, young tap dancer, will dance and sing.

The very latest of modern decorations will transform the ballroom into a wilderness of beauty, and spring-like colors will predominate. A canopy effect will be achieved by draping rayon streamers from the center of the ceiling to the walls. The spring colors will be repeated in the programs, which are to be new in shape and design.

They'll Lead Gala Prom at 'Ing' Tonight

Paul Jordan, junior class president, and Harriet Vance, also a junior, will lead the grand march at the junior prom tonight at the Inglaterra ballroom. Charlie Cartwright and his popular band will furnish the music.

Dick Jurgens To Play Dance

DeMolays Pick Popular Orchestra

With the announcement that Dick Jurgens and his band will play, preparations are being made for the Easter season dance sponsored by the DeMolay organization.

April 17 has been set as the date and the Inglaterra ballroom has been chosen as the site of the annual dance. Tickets go on sale soon at $1 a person at the advance price.

Dick Jurgens and his band played at the Inglaterra recently and was such a favorite with dancers he has been recalled.

Don Wollett Wins Lincoln Contest; To Go to National

Having won first place in original oratory division at the speech contest at Lincoln, Don Wollett, senior, is now qualified to go to the National meet which will be held the week of May 3-8 at Jacksonville, Ill.

Peoria high school's speech team won fifth place at the contest at Lincoln. At the same contest Deane Weinbarg, senior, won sixth place in oratorical declamation.

With three firsts, two seconds and one third, Central's team won first place in the sub-district contest held at Canton last week. Winners were Don Wollett, first place in original oratory; Jeanne Swann, first place in dramatic reading; John Packhurst, first in humorous reading. Second place winners were Deane Weinbarg in declamatory oratory and Shirley Caplan in verse. Jeanne Swann also won a third place in the extemporo division.

A Cappella In Easter Service

K. Jackson Calls Music Festival Rehearsals

Providing music for the Easter sunrise service, the Peoria high school a cappella choir under the direction of Miss Katherine Jackson, sang a group of songs. The sunrise services took place at the Palace theater at 7 a. m. last Sunday.

According to Miss Jackson, the music department is working on the songs to be sung at the Peoria Twelve music festival May 7. Several rehearsals will be held from now on until time of the festival.

Earthquake Cause

As a result of recent earthquakes felt through this section, Frank Pockrington's earth hour physiography class is studying the different kinds of earthquakes and their causes. Volcanoes in the United States and abroad are also being studied.

'Open House' Tuesday Night: Full Program

Will Acquaint Parents With Work Done by Students in Classes

In order to acquaint the parents of the students in Peoria high school with the work that is being done in the classrooms, an "Open House" will be held at the Parent-Teachers' meeting next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Volley ball games will be played in the boys' gymnasium from 3:30 to 4:30 under the supervision of Julius Hyde. At the same hour Miss Amy Wolff will use the auditorium for her gymnastics classes and Miss Geraldine Hoyt's speech students will hold debates in room 1.

A short musical program will be given in the music hall at 3:45 by members of Miss Katherine Jackson's choruses.

Classes to Demonstrate

Demonstrations will be given throughout the evening by the classes of Miss Norma Bullock in room 211; J. V. York in room 305; J. S. Simons and V. C. Hoagland, Miss Corinne Kimbler in the biology laboratory; and Arthur L. Epstein in the physics laboratory. Other demonstrations will be given by the Home Economics clothing department and by H. P. Shields in room 410. Mr. Shields will be in that room from 4:00-4:30.

Marking projects will be shown in the auditorium at 4:30 as "Safety and Posture". Members of the track team under the leadership of Earl English will be coming on the auditorium stage.

Classes In Session

Classes will be in session during the hour periods from 7:30-8:30, 8:35-9:35 and 9:40-10:40.

During the first three periods Miss Irene Rapely's first period class and Gerald Ivan Peters' classes will be in session in room 206.

United States and modern history classes of V. A. Hughes are to have recitations in room 214 throughout the first two periods.

P.S. Remember

The struggle of the Extras to gain fame and glory is a long and hard one. To show the directors that they are entitled to bigger and better scripts the Extras grasp at bit parts eagerly. They are the backbone of the studio and keep the stars on their toes. Luck to you, Extras, and may your ears tingle to the sound of applause and your eyes blink in the glare of fame!

REHEARSAL ON THE SOUND STAGE

The job of the Stand-Ins is considered by experts the hardest work in the studio. The Stand-Ins see how stars are made. They work for hours in the glare of fame and yet receive none for their share. Their work is steady but their names obscure. Yet always do they strive for the time when electric lights will spell honor for them. Take it, Stand-Ins, and there will come a day!

STARS MUST HAVE FIGURES

SPEECH ARTICULATION

Gone are the days of drudgery and obscurity. You, Starlets, are almost arrived. You are stealing pictures from the ranking stars every day and before many months have passed you will reap the harvest of merit and distinction. Give your best and may all you wish be yours!

THEY

PROM

Our hats are off to you, Feature Players. You have made us laugh and cry with your acting on the Lot. Dreams have come true for you and as you go to bigger studios and attain greater successes we wish you nothing but box-office hits on the stage of life!

PLAY SCREAMO!

The Crest staff invites you, Feature Players, to play Screamo.

Instead of saying something nice about you we have written a story for your benefit. You will find it in the cutting room. While reading the story, "Ethelbert's Dilemna" you will find numbers after certain descriptive words. Match the numbers after your name with those after the descriptive words in the story and "presto" you will find the answer to the old theatrical saying, "Oh wad some power the giftie gie us to see oursils as ithers see us."

Come on! Have some fun and play Screamo.

LET'S PLAY SCREAMO

ETHELBERT'S DILEMNA

A beautiful (1), crisp (2) November night—Friday night and no date—Ethelbert sat dreamy (3) and pensive (4), watching the majestic (5) beauty (6) of gently-falling snow on the still (7), and tranquil (8) earth below. He decided on a peaceful (9), serene (10), evening in his orderly (11), ultra-modern (12) room. Casting a proud (13) glance around his magnificent (14) room, his gaze alighted on his dazzling (15) Fireman's badge and his colorful (16) ole XYU banner. With an impulsive (17) gesture, he threw a frivolous (18) pillow up in the air, striking a lovely (19), dainty (20), vase and breaking it into tiny (21) bits. He regretted this impetuous (22), jubilant (23) act and decided a serene (24) evening at home was not for one so forceful (25) and dynamic (26) as he.

Scanning the pages of his reliable (27), valuable (28), little (29) book of numbers, he grabbed the trustworthy (30) French telephone and dialed a number that was rated A No. 1 (31), superior (32), excellent (33), anticipating (34) a sympathetic (35), placid (36) reply. Ah, who could be as charming (37), vivacious (38), whimsical (39), sportive (40) and attractive (41) as she. But evidently, this popular (42), good-natured (43), miss was out for an interesting (44) evening, so our affable (45), energetic (46) leading-man (47) with a skillful (48), dexterous (49), hand, dialed another number. This time it was exuberant (50) Conchita, piquant (51), entertaining (52), scintillating (53), amusing (54), whimsical (55), altogether disarming (56). This lively (57) little number didn't live there any more. She had moved to distant (58) shores, to glorious (59) Hawaii. The cost of a long distance call over the bouyant (60) waters, though it would be romantic (61) and friendly (62), was enough to apall our thrifty (63), diligent (64), hero (65).

Though very generous (66) and worthy (67), Ethelbert kept an accurate (68), direct (69) record of all that he spent and he was honest (70) and consistent (71) enough to deny himself this delightful (72) experience. Well, it looked like a tranquil (73), cultured (74), studious (75) evening in his harmonious (76), elegant (77), room in spite of his manly (78), amorous (79) efforts to be sociable. Indeed, it seemed that our tall, dark and handsome (80) hero was doomed. But, our suave (81), congenial (82), executive (83) would not give up. A clever (84) and definite (85) thought hammered with insistent (86) recurrence on his sensible (87), progressive (88) efficient (89) mind. Very well, he would call jolly (90) Bridget. She was fashionable (91), amusing (92), refreshing (93), cheerful (94), hearty (95), unaffected (96), also versatile (97), and witty (98). He would beseech her to be a good-egg (99) and make the evening peppy (100). She always was reasonable (101) and hearty (102). With neat (103) precision (104) he dialed this number.

At the imperative (105) call of the telephone bell, sprightly (106) Bridget tripped gayly (107) over her red-headed (108) young brother who was preoccupied (109) with his toy electric (110) train. She continued her energetic (111) way, however, to the telephone. With a wistful (112) look in her heavenly (113), lustrous (114) eyes, she cooed in a throaty (115), dramatic (116) voice, "Go ahead, it's your nickel."

Our straightforward (117) hero, in his bland (118), dashing (119), coquettish (120) manner, said, "Hia, Butch, this is Ethelbert. I'm in a jocular (121), cheerful (122) mood this evening and I'm wondering if you would go for a tasty, generous (123) and delicious chocolate soda. We could throw in an invigorating (124), refreshing (125) and vital (126) walk on the side, on the illustrious (127) side at that. How's about being cheerful (128) and sweet (129), my little cup-cake?"

But to Ethelbert's chagrin, a definite (130), decisive (131), independent (132) "No!" came over the wire with a bang. He turned from the candid (133) telephone determined to make an unforgettable (135) evening of it, so, undaunted, our eager (136) idol, in his thorough (137) manner, traced his index finger down the magic (138) numbers of his priceless book.

Samathia Jones, a hot-trucker (139) from Chinatown caught his hurried glance. Why this dashing (140) number had all the attributes: She had style (141), she was joyous (142), affectionate (143), humorous (144), good-natured (145), tantalizing (146), brilliant (147), exquisite (148), worldly (149), fiery (150). A most unusual (151), good sport (152). She was decidedly sociable (153), cordial (154), entertainining (155), and cooperative (156). Alas, in vain did Ethelbert, the debonair (157), call her number. No answer.

His exuberant (158), spontaneous (159), spirit (160) somewhat dampened, he sat there trying to surmount this impenetrable (161), solid (162) wall. Did he hear foot-steps—an imperative (163), firm (164) knock on his door? He dashed to the massive (165) door, eager for some fine (166) adventure. The natty (167), important (168) figure of the leader (169) of his fraternity, looking impressive (170) with an adorable (171), vivacious (172), darling (173) maiden on each manly arm. As everybody knows, two intoxicating (174), sparkling (175), winsome (176) femmes are too many for any man, no matter how courageous (177) he is, therefore generous old Joe brought elfin (178) Wendy and exotic (179) Elissa, both in a radiant (180) mood.

Our sagacious (181) Ethelbert excitedly hurried into his all-enveloping raccoon coat,—just a good-natured (182) bug-in-a-rug, that's all. Whoopee! A natural (183)!—a real date at last! On a well-known (184), hay-ride!—Whoopee!!

Out they ran, no time to be fastidious (185) or dignified (186); jubilant (187) and intent (188) on getting into that deep, sweet, hay. As our athletic (189) valerous (190) young man helped the nimble (191), merry (192) girls into the sturdy (193) wagon, they heard the manly (194) and maidenly (195) voices, all laughing and talking at once. Now they were comfortably nestled in the sweet-smelling hay. Someone was telling humorous (196) anecdotes in a hearty (197), deep voice.

"Last night I went to the Troc—the club of colorful (198), dazzling (199) maids and cultured (200), smooth (201) gentlemen in top-hats, white ties and tails. Everybody was dancing "The Big Apple." A dance that is vivacious and original (202)! In fact, I go for it in a big way. My chic (203) drag was a modern (204) number, red-gold hair, talons and gown—yes, she was one swell (205) little job. Listen—what was that our hero heard? The man who was so trim-looking (206), telling this delightful (207) story of the "Lady in Red" was Fred Astaire, the dexterous (208), artistic (209), creative (210) dancer. Ethelbert bestirred himself. wide-eyed he looked around and to his delight he beheld a galaxy of celebrated (211) famous (212) stars, talented (213) Nelson Eddy with our very supple (214) Olive Oyl, gracious (215) Greta Garbo with Charlie McCarthy, and yes,—it was good-looking (216) Tyrone Power with Minnie Mouse snuggling cozily in the corner.

"Well, well, one never knows what ingenious (217) surprise life may have in store for us sophisticated (218) people," mused our hero, "fancy that and dear me, Suz!"

He listened to Charley making love, "Greta my darling (220), my petite (221), fragile (222), delicate (223) idol, be mine."

"I vant to be all alone," this mysterious (224) lady answered in a husky (225) voice.

"But why, my languid (226) beauty?" questioned our wooden friend.

"Because you are sitting on my most valuable (227) foot."

"Ha, ha, one never knows whose foot one may sit on next, does one? At any rate," quoth Charlie, "I want to tell you a dandy (228) story about intriguing (229) Delores, uh uh, what a dame!"

The festive (230) floor show was on. From behind the protective (231) wings swept a Mexican glamour-gal (232). Her flaming ruffled, skirt swayed with the rythmic (233), movements of her body to the Mexican rattle-beat——

At that moment there was an amazing (234) screech from the corner of the wagon.

"Help, Popeye-hel-up!"

Nelson Eddy was strangling the ethereal (235) Olive Oyl.

In the midst of all this excitement, Ethelbert heard thundering hooves behind him—the "XYU" Fire Wagon.

"Hey chief," yodeled our hero, in a fearless (236) voice, "What's up?"

"Mah boy, there's a wild (237) blaze at the girls'dormitory of XYU. When we heard the piercing gong of the fire-bell we donned our vivid (238) fire-men's helmets in a spontaneous (239) rush to the strong (240) fire-wagon we rushed out with such impetuous (241) speed (242) that we forgot our trusty (243) fire-hose. Junior is bringing it on his purple Rolls Wreck. The wagon is alive (244) with volunteer fire-men."

"Eureka, we are here," yelled our brave (245) hero, above the wagon's melodious (246) creaking. Through the impenetrable (247) flames he saw the silhouette of a kindly (248) Frosh.

Helpful, skillful Ethelbert raced up the straightladder to the sixth floor. When this valorous youth reached the interior of the flaming room, he found, much to his surprise and disgust, that the maiden in distress was not a maiden at all, but a stately (249) statue.

As our hero was about to leave the room he heard a feeble "yip." Whipping about, he caught up a composed (250) little poodle with a quick (251), tender (252), motion. Our sympathetic (253) young athlete (254) began to descend the ladder to the reassuring earth below—when he dropped the poor little pooch, but retrieved him by the ears. Now the poodle definitely did not like this treatment, so he bit Ethelbert, in fact, he bit him right in half. And that was the end of Ethelbert, also his dilemna.

The moral of this little story is: That's gratitude for 'ya!
